It's that time of year again! The KSSEP has come to a close, marking the end of another successful year. Of the 102 students who applied to the program, 39 got jobs. Originally, the Kahnawake Youth Center split one of their high school positions to offer three students employment. This year, new to the KSSEP were private business: Alan Goodleaf Plumbing and 7 Generations Daycare. Also new this year were higher wage rates; each level went up 50¢.
